AND GOD SAYS . . .

Last week I shared an article titled "Five Things Jesus Never Said." Today I would like to add one more thing, namely, Jesus never said, "You need to forgive yourself." Instead, He said, "If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness" (1 John 1:9). Jesus therefore "forgave us all our sins. . . . triumphing over them by the cross (Colossians 2:13-15). So, if this is true, then what is left for us to forgive? The answer, absolutely nothing! There is nothing we can add to the work that Jesus did in our behalf that will make our forgiveness more complete or effective. You see it is not a matter of us forgiving ourselves. It is a matter of faith in the completeness of the forgiveness that Jesus grants to us and then acting on it as one who is now completely forgiven.

This is exactly what God was talking about when He said, "For it is by grace you have been saved, through faith — and this not from yourselves, it is the gift of God— not by works . . .," (Ephesians 2:8-9) The need is not that we need to forgive ourselves, but that we need to fully believe Jesus forgave all our sin completely. Full forgiveness is not about our works, but about God's complete forgiveness!

Furthermore, two other perplexing issues arise if we are to accept the idea that we are to forgive ourselves. (1) How do we do that? And (2) Who gives us the right to do that?

How do we forgive ourselves? I am open to suggestions. Is it just a matter of telling your self over and over again that you are no longer guilty for what you have done because you have forgiven yourself? How can that do any good? You weren't the one who was wronged so you have no right to forgive the wrong.

And secondly, who gives you the right or authority to forgive yourself. Forgiveness can only be granted by the offended party. The Psalmist understood this when he said, "Against thee, [God] and thee only have I sinned (Psalm 51:4).

So the real issue is not about forgiving yourself but about taking God at His word by faith and fully accepting His forgiveness so that you can now rejoice that you are fully forgiven.
