BARN OWL

GERRYMANDERING

Eldridge Gerry was the governor of Massachusetts in 1812. He signed the Declaration of Independence, helped write the Constitution, and later was vice president. He also decided to help his party stay in power by changing the borders of election districts around Boston. This helped to split up opposition voters. The shape of one district was so strange that the newspapers said it looked like a salamander. People combined the governor's name with "salamander" and the word "Gerry-Mander" was born. It is a uniquely American word.

Gerrymandering means changing voting district borders to help one political party stay in power. The party in power usually does this. Voters from the opposing party may be split among many districts to weaken their numbers. Other times, they are stuffed into one district so that they can only win that district but have no strength in others. This is how one party may have the majority of votes in a state but the other party has more seats in government. This has happened in North Carolina and in Wisconsin.

Gerrymandering hurts Democracy. It has been described as "Politicians picking their voters instead of voters picking their politicians." By changing the districts on the map, active voters who participate in elections often find that their votes are worth nothing.

Both major political parties have used gerrymandering to gain or keep power. However, between 2019 and 2022, Democrats introduced bills which would have stopped gerrymandering and made voting easier. None of these were passed.

Now, the Supreme Court has struck down protections in the Voting Rights Act. The 1965 law was made to stop racial discrimination in voting. After the court decision, many Republican states quickly changed their maps to weaken the voting power of minority communities. Black districts were sliced up in Tennessee, Louisiana and Mississippi in the hope that Republicans could save seats in the House of Representatives this fall and can keep President Trump's agenda going.

It seems like past rules that were made to include everyone in the democratic process have been thrown out. With our voting maps changing before our eyes, our only choice is not to give up – but to VOTE MORE. The president has become even less popular. Even the redrawn districts in some areas are looking like they may support Democrats anyways. When you go out and vote, and get others to go, democracy stays strong and alive.

No more salamanders.

Clark County Humane Society's Pet of the Week

"PENGUIN"
Penguin is the CCHS Pet of the Week!

Penguin came to CCHS with his 3 siblings earlier this past April from a local farm. This dashing Heeler mix is about 14 weeks old (estimated Date of Birth 2/6/26) and weighs roughly 21.2# currently. Penguin is an awesome pup! He's a loverboy who likes to get lots of attention. He's handsome with his short-haired black and white coat with lots of speckles and tan highlights. Being a Heeler puppy, Penguin has lots of energy and would do well with an active family who can help to keep him busy. But he's also a smart boy ready to learn how to be a good dog when he grows up. With any puppy, training and socialization are incredibly important to the success of the pup. Apply for Penguin today! He'll be so happy to meet you! You can submit your adoption application on our website: www.cchs-petshelter.org/applying-to-adopt.

Do you have a love for cats and dogs and have been thinking it would be nice to help out at CCHS? Well, now's your chance! Whether it's a few hours a week, one day a month, or something in between, this is your opportunity to try it out. We are very much in need of volunteers! You can learn more and sign up on our website: https://www.cchs-petshelter.org/volunteer or email April at cchsoutreach1@gmail.com. Come join our CCHS volunteer family!

SUDOKU

				1				9
	8				6	5
	7			3	4		1
			3	6
2		7	5		8	6		4
				4	1
	3		4	5			2
		2	6				5
4				8

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle.

Sudoku answer:

4	5	6	1	8	2	3	9	7
1	9	2	6	7	3	4	5	8
7	3	8	4	5	9	1	2	6
8	6	3	2	4	1	9	7	5
2	1	7	5	9	8	6	3	4
5	4	9	3	6	7	2	8	1
6	7	5	9	3	4	8	1	2
9	8	1	7	2	6	5	4	3
3	2	4	8	1	5	7	6	9
