RENEE NICHOLE GOOD

Renee Nichole Good was a 37-year-old U.S citizen and a mother of three. She was shot and killed by an ICE agent on a Minneapolis street, January 7, 2026. This is what we know for sure.

Video evidence shows that the agent was not "run over" as Donald Trump said. Renee Good was also not a "domestic terrorist" as Kristi Noem claimed. She turned her wheels away from the agent and began to drive forward when the agent fired three shots. Two of the shots went through the driver's side window. Her car sped down the street, uncontrolled, hit other cars, and stopped. Video taken by the ICE agent shows Good speaking to him just seconds before he shot her.

These are the facts. Yet if you watch TV or read comments on social media, you see very different views of the facts. Here is where the real argument begins. What people think about her death depends on what they already believe.

Some people believe that ICE should be allowed to do its work without being challenged. They believe law enforcement officers should always be obeyed. From this view, Good's death may be seen as a sad but justified result of people interfering with federal officers. These people may believe that undocumented immigration is a serious problem that needs tough action. They may trust ICE agents' training and feel their authority should not be questioned. They may believe the explanations given by the Trump administration.

Others see the event very differently. Renee Good and her wife were part of a growing number of people in Minnesota who observe and help their neighbors during ICE actions. If you believe that people have the right to challenge authority when it is wrong, you see her death as unjust. Most people believe non-violent protest is a basic right in the United States. They may disagree with how ICE captures and detains people, whether they are citizens or not. They may worry about ICE agent's lack of training, their bullying of people in the community, their use of masks and their paramilitary behavior. Some fear that the actions of ICE and other federal agencies are an extreme right wing move to take permanent control of the government.

From this view, what happened on the street was the murder of an innocent, non-violent woman and the result of agents having too much power, too little training and too much anger. These agents were allowed to operate beyond the limit of the law.

How people see this event depends on what they believe about power, protest and justice.

AND GOD SAYS...

Therefore, preparing your minds for action, and being sober-minded, set your hope fully on the grace that will be brought to you at the revelation of Jesus Christ. As obedient children, do not be conformed to the passions of your former ignorance, but as he who called you is holy, you also be holy in all your conduct, since it is written, "You shall be holy, for I am holy." (1 Peter 1:13-16)

Notice that "to be holy as God is holy," one must focus on the grace of God provided through his son, Jesus Christ. We cannot be holy through our own efforts, through living right, through being kind or nice, or even loving properly. In order to be holy as God is holy one must do everything perfectly without fail, ever. Remember, it only took Adam one failure to become a sinner and cause he and all his offspring to become sinners by nature and fail God's requirement of perfect holiness. As Adam's offspring, we too, are given to failure if left to ourselves to live holy lives according to God's standard. Our only hope, therefore, is to rely on God's grace. That is, to rely on his provision for our holiness even though we don't deserve it and never will. That is why it is called "God's grace."

But notice something else in the above passage. Notice that this grace will be fully experienced "at the revelation of Jesus Christ," not before. That means that we will continue to be in conflict with the forces of evil existing in this present world. That's why Peter also admonishes us to "make every effort to add to your faith goodness; and to goodness, knowledge;..." (2 Peter 1:5) and to "make every effort to be found spotless, blameless and at peace with him." (2 Peter 3:14). The holiness we receive today is by faith because it will only be complete when Jesus comes for us and "we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is." (1 John 3:2)

What a day that will be. The war against sin will be over, our holiness will be complete in us as it is in Jesus and we will experience complete freedom from sin and its effects for ever. Then we will truly live.
