HEALTH INSURANCE

Most people in the United States depend on Health Insurance to pay for medical care. But most developed countries don't use health insurance and still take good care of their people.
What is Health Insurance really? Think of it like a betting game. You are expected to place a bet every month – called a premium. You bet that if you get sick or injured or hospitalized, the insurance company will pay your medical bills and you will not be forced into bankruptcy by the cost. The Insurance Company is betting against you. They bet that you won't need much care and they keep the money you have paid them.
They spread this risk out over millions of people.

But insurance companies also twist the rules to be sure they win. They limit the amount they will pay. They may deny certain medications and treatments. They may pay doctors and clinics less money. They may make you go through a long, hard process to appeal their decisions. When allowed, they may deny coverage for "pre-existing conditions" – illness you had before you placed the bet. Older and sicker people have to pay more to stay in the game – or accept less in coverage. Insurance companies are a business, not a public service. Their goal is to make money for their investors.

Most health plans barely cover mental health care. (Those of us working in health care know that mental health is a large piece of the care needed in many illnesses.) Dental and optical care become separate paid programs. Companies try to limit what they pay to nursing homes, hospice care, home care and rehab.
This hurts patients but also hurts the nursing homes and other businesses that care for our elderly and disabled.

The health insurance industry has acres and acres of offices built to take your personal money or tax money. Their goal is to collect money and pay out as little as possible.

This is not health care. This is an obstacle to health care.

Most Americans believe health care is a basic right. We don't need insurance as a middleman. There are other choices for us. A single-payer program works in Canada – and we use that in our Medicare and Medicaid programs. A government-managed program works in England - and we use that for our veteran's health care.

There are problems with universal health care programs, as with all programs, and they always need adjustment. But why should you have to "place a bet" with an insurance company just to get the health care you need?

AND GOD SAYS . . .

For certain individuals … have secretly slipped in among you, … who pervert the grace of our God into a license for immorality and deny Jesus Christ our only Sovereign and Lord. – Jude 1-4

If there is a Scripture that describes the composition of the church today, this may be it. It describes good churches that may preach the gospel diligently, that preach "by grace are we saved, not of works," that realize the second coming of Jesus is nearer than ever, and that we need to be about our Father's business. But these churches may also be infected with "certain individuals" who "pervert the grace of God", and in so doing, "deny Jesus as Sovereign and Lord."

This is not an overt attack. It is subtle and inconspicious. It slithers into our discussions and teachings in the form of compassion as we teach about our "biblical rights." It teaches that we triumph over our adversary the Devil "by the blood of the Lamb and by the word of their testimony. "But they neglect the last and crucial part' "they did not love their lives so much as to shrink from death" (Revelation 12:11).

What I am trying to say is that the grace of God is not about giving us liberty to live our lives in a way that enables us to conform to the world (Romans 12:1), so as to minimize adversity in our lives. It does not give us the right to live in a way that we blend in with the world so that we take on the standard and morals of the world (Colossians 2:8).

The grace of God is all about the undeserved mercy he has shown us through the love he demonstrated to us when his son, Jesus, died on the cross for our sins. It is about his not remembering our sin anymore, once we confess it and place our faith in the justifying work that Jesus completed on the cross of Calvary. It is about God doing everything, and I mean everything, necessary to effect or enable our salvation (Ephesians 1:3-2:11) — even enabling us to believe.

Because he has saved us by grace, we are to "make every effort to be found spotless [body– our lifestyle], blameless [soul– our mindset and motives] and at peace [spirit– our spiritual relationship] with him [God]" (2 Peter 3:14, 1 Thessalonians 5:23).

Clark County Humane Society's Pet of the Week

"INDIE"

Indie is the CCHS Pet of the Week!

SAVE A SHELTER PET!

Indie came to CCHS as a stray towards the very end of February after being found in the Withee area. This gorgeous Miniature Pinscher mix is about 1 year old and weighs roughly 16# currently. Indie is a total lovebug! She is a sweet thing with a happy personality. She can be a curious girl at times, but that's only because she wants to know what's going on! She's a pretty girl with a short-haired coat that is white and black with brown highlights on her face. And don't forget to notice her fabulous ears! With any puppy, training and socialization are incredibly important to the success of the pup. If you are the new family Indie is hoping for, please apply to adopt her today! You can submit your adoption application on our website: www.cchs-petshelter.org/applying-to-adopt.

Do you have a love for cats and dogs and have been thinking it would be nice to help out at CCHS? Well, now's your chance! Whether it's a few hours a week, one day a month, or something in between, this is your opportunity to try it out. We are very much in need of volunteers! You can learn more and sign up on our website: https://www.cchs-petshelter.org/volunteer or email April at cchsoutreach1@gmail.com. Come join our CCHS volunteer family!
