Ever wonder why one party is called left-wing and another right-wing. Why some are "leftists" and others from the "far right"?

In the early days of the French Revolution in 1789 a French National Assembly was called by the King. From the position of the speaker, people of different perspectives began to migrate to one side of the meeting hall or another.

Commoners eventually sat to the left of the speaker. Nobility and clergy took seats on the right.

Nobility didn't want change. They believed in the divine right of Kings and keeping power with the aristocracy. They held to standards of authority, hierarchy, order, tradition, duty and nationalism.

The left side of the hall believed in the rights of the middle class, common people and peasants. Drawing inspiration from the American Revolution a few years earlier, they believed people should have equal part in governing a country. They held to standards of freedom, equality, reform of the status quo, the rights of man and internationalism.

There are grades of loyalty among people to the right or left. Some extreme, some more in the middle.

But the right still advocates for the aristocracy. The left, for the common people, workers and farmers. The left created social security, Medicare, Medicaid, the FDIC , public education and rural electrification. I could go on. The right supports tax relief for the wealthiest, reduced government regulation of business, removal of social economic support and the free, unconstrained play of business and markets. They support limiting access to the vote and to women's health care options. The right supported slavery and the Jim Crow laws.

And the right doesn't seem to mind that the president enjoys referring to himself as "king".

AND GOD SAYS . . .

Last night my wife and I watched the movie, "All the King's Horses," which was probably made in the 1970's. It was a true story of a married couple who had severe marital issues. She was a professing Christian who would only marry a Christian. So he said he believed in Christ so that she, Chris, would marry him. Understandably, their marriage quickly deteriorated. Chris became focused on divorce as the only way to end her suffering. She believed that "all the king's horses" couldn't put their marriage back together again.

This movie contrasts the Biblical, Christ-centered counseling Chris received from her mother and a Biblical pastor with the self-centered counseling of a rights-centered pastor. More than that, it depicts the subtle ways we focus on our rights rather than on pleasing our God.

Over the years, I have observed a major shift in marriage counseling for troubled marriages. Today, rather than an emphasis on submission to Christ, I hear "innocent party" based on the exception clause in Matthew 19:9, "I [Jesus speaking] tell you that anyone who divorces his wife, except for marital unfaithfulness, and marries another woman commits adultery." In this passage, Jesus is answering the question about why Moses supposedly commanded divorce. The thing I have noticed is that our focus seems to be strictly on the exception clause, (innocent party) rather than on our hardness of heart and what that means. Nor do we spend much time on the consequences of divorce and remarriage found in this passage. Furthermore we tend to pass over verses 4-6, about God's view of marriage and what His best is for our marriages.

You see, our focus, seems to me, to be on our rights. And because this is our focus, we cannot see anything else. While I understand this, it is neither right nor best for us. It is natural for us to focus on our needs and wants when we are hurting and feel violated. I get that. And without Jesus' resur- rection power (Philippians 3:10), it may be the only way.

But Jesus has a better way. It is the way of God's grace given to us when we "lose our life" for Christ's sake (Luke 17:33). When we focus on submitting to Him, which means surrendering our rights and doing things in a way that glorifies Him rather than us, then we begin to experience the power of His grace. And that's what we really need.

AD DEADLINE WEDNESDAY @ 4 PM

Clark County Humane Society's Pet of the Week

"PRIMA"

Prima is the CCHS Pet of the Week!

Prima came to CCHS with her friend Donna. They had been found as strays back in December in the Marshfield area. Unfortunately the other cat in the home didn't want more kitties around, so they came to CCHS to find new families. Donna has already been adopted, so now it's Prima's turn! Prima is 5 1/2 years old and is a pretty girl with her short-haired Calico coat. She's a bit of a chunky girl at 13.0#, which means there is definitely more of her to love! Prima is a sweet, unassuming kitty. She is a gentle girl who likes to be petted but isn't fond of being picked up. She'll do best as a couch potato in her new home! Prima does have a heart murmur, grade 4 out of 6. While it's not causing her any trouble, it's something to be aware of as she grows older. You can submit your adoption application on our website: www.cchs-petshelter.org/applying-to-adopt. We have lots of wonderful pets available for adoption now, especially puppies, so please check them all out online and then stop in to visit!

Do you have a love for cats and dogs and have been thinking it would be nice to help out at CCHS? Well, now's your chance! Whether it's a few hours a week, one day a month, or something in between, this is your opportunity to try it out. We are very much in need of volunteers! You can learn more and sign up on our website: https://www.cchs-petshelter.org/volunteer or email April at cchsoutreach1@gmail.com. Come join our CCHS volunteer family!
