BARN OWL

THE RICH GET RICHER?

President Trump's tariffs, trade war threats and the chance of a bigger war in Europe have left our economy shaky.
The stock market is in a nose dive.
But Trump and other billionaires don't worry, because for them, it's just an "adjustment." They advise us that there might be some discomfort.

During the Great Depression of the 1930s some of richest people in America made their money from the disaster. Joe Kennedy, who made a lot money in the stock market in the 1920s, sold his stocks before the market started to fall in 1929. Then, when the stock market crashed and many people lost everything, he bought more stock. By the end of the Depression, he was one of the richest men in the country.

Every time there's been a financial crisis, the rich just get richer.

Remember when our economy crashed in 2007 because of Wall Street banks? Home prices (and our equity) dropped by 21%. More than 10 million lost their homes to banking predators. The stock market lost over 50% of its value before President George W. Bush left office. Many regular people cashed out their 401(k)s just to survive.

Between 2009 and 2012, when the recovery began, the richest Americans saw their income grow by over 31 percent. Almost all the money made in that time went to the top 1% of Americans. A billion dollars invested in 2009 became $5.62 billion in just 11 years. During that same period the combined wealth of American billionaires went up by 80 percent. 80 PERCENT!

When have you ever had that return on your money?

When the stock market crashed again because of Trump and Covid, the rich had another chance to get even richer.
The wealthy saw it as a gift from God.

Billionaires make the most money during a crash. They love crashes because they can buy cheap stocks while regular people are losing their money.

So, our billionaire president and his billionaire friends are not worried about the stock market decline they created. For them it is not a crisis. It is an "adjustment." While regular people lose everything, the rich will make more money, and the gap between the rich and the rest of us will grow even wider.

BY LUKE FRIEMOTH, DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC WORKS

AND GOD SAYS . . .

For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh: (For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds;) . . . and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ (2 Corinthians 10:3-5 KJV).

It was almost ten years ago that I wrote the following as the conclusion for a message I preached from 1 John 2. I was cleaning off my desk when I came across my notes and was struck by the fact of how apropos it is to the cultural/spiritual war that we find ourselves in today.

I wrote that God's strategy was not to send an army of angels to fight against Satan, sin, and death in order to take us back as his captives. Instead he sent his son as a baby—vulnerable, weak, and dependant. He used a family of no worldly influence or means to effect change. He came through a nation that was held in captivity and was looked down upon and rejected by the rest of the world throughout all the ages. He did this at a time when he, his family or his people had no way to wage war as the world does.

But, though it was completely contrary to human reason, historical precedent, common military strategy, or worldly principles of influence, God won the greatest victory that has ever been won, over the greatest enemy that could be faced, against the greatest odds ever given, and for the greatest prize that could be won.

God defeated Satan, sin, and death, in one climactic encounter his death on the cross and his resurrection from the dead. He thus rescues us who turn to him, setting us free from the bondage of sin and death, and reconciles us to himself. Thus he has restored us to his image, making us a new creation.

This is the message we have to preach. This is the victory we have to offer. Have you entered that victory?"
