BARN OWL

A FIRE IN BERLIN AND OTHER EMERGENCIES

When leaders want more power and don't want other parts of the government to stop them, they create "emergencies" to justify their actions.

On Monday February 27, 1933, exactly four weeks after Adolf Hitler was sworn in as the Chancellor of Germany, a fire was set at the Reichstag building – where the German Parliament met in Berlin. The fire caused a lot of damage to the building.

Because of the fire, the German president, Paul Von Hindenburg, declared an emergency. He ordered a stop to civil liberties, freedom of expression, freedom of the press, right to gather in public and the right to privacy in phone calls and mail. Newspapers not considered friendly to the Nazi cause were banned. (These rights were not restored until after World War II.)

With the emergency powers in place, Hitler announced that communists were trying to take over Germany. This was not true – but it served his purpose. He didn't care who he had to blame. The police – now controlled by Hitler's Nazi Party – arrested many opposed to the Nazis, including all of the communist members of Parliament. The communists previously polled 17% of the vote, but with them removed, the Nazis were able to increase their share of the vote from 33% to 44% vote in the March 5, 1933 Reichstag elections. This gave the Nazis and their allies a majority of 52% in the Reichstag.

Hitler then moved forward with a law called The Enabling Act. This law gave the Chancellor the power to pass laws on his own without the approval of the Parliament. These special powers would remain in effect for four years, and after that, they could be renewed.

The Enabling Act passed easily on March 23, 1933, with support from the Nazi Party, the right-wing German National People's Party and several smaller parties. The measure went into force on March 24th, and Hitler became the DICTATOR of Germany.

Keep an eye out for those sorts of "emergencies" today. We have already been warned of "internal terrorist threats", protests, invasion of the southern border, loss of money through corrupt agencies. I suspect we will see more accusations, bigger scares and bigger emergencies as we approach mid-term elections.

This is the playbook of men who want to take control.

AND GOD SAYS . . .

We know that we have come to know him [Jesus] if we obey his commands . . . This is how we know we are in him: Whoever claims to live in him must walk as Jesus did. (John 2:5-6)

The truth gets lost in generalities. It is not enough to say that Jesus lived a righteous life, or that he obeyed his Father, or that he believed in prayer. In order to get the full impact of this truth, we need to look at the specifics. So, what are some of the specifics of Jesus life that need to become a part of our lives, if we are to "walk" the way Jesus did. Here are some I see.

1. He withdrew for time alone with God in prayer, especially during his busiest times.
2. He studied God's word and knew it well.
3. He based his life on the principles of God's word.
4. He showed compassion for the underdog, the one who was hurting, sick, rejected, etc.
5. He stood against those with evil intent and even called them out. He wasn't a part of the silent majority. This is especially true of the religious leaders.
6. He lived to please his Father. He did everything his Father desired him to do.
7. He was always willing to share himself with others. He was never too busy or too tired to stop what he was doing to help others in need. He never let the cost to himself prevent him from reaching out to others.
8. He was willing to forgive the worst injustices that were inflicted upon him. He did not hold onto bitterness toward those who hurt him.
9. He did not look down on others because of their sin.
10. He was respectful of those in authority over him.
11. He was willing to sacrifice himself for the good of others.
12. He was willing to take the debt of others upon himself so that they could be free.

God says that we are to have the same attitude as Jesus (Philippines 2:1-2). So how do you measure up? Would you say you really know Jesus?

Clark County Humane Society's Pet of the Week

"MISTER"

Mister is the CCHS Pet of the Week!

Mister came to CCHS as a stray earlier this January from the Granton area. This stunning, 2-year-old Red Heeler mix currently weighs 48.4#. While we can't know for certain what his life was like before, we believe that Mister might have been a farm dog prior to ending up with us, as he didn't seem to understand what leashes, or even what a collar, was for. But Mister is a super smart guy and is a quick learner, and is doing great with us at the Shelter. Every day he shows off how handsome he is with his short-haired red and white coat with perky ears and a happy smile. He also shows us how much he loves treats as he sits and gives paw to get all he can! With any rescue, training and socialization are incredibly important to the success of the dog. Apply for Mister today! You can submit your adoption application on our website: www.cchs-petshelter.org/applying-to-adopt. We have lots of wonderful pets available for adoption now, especially puppies, so please check them all out online and then stop in to visit.

Do you have a love for cats and dogs and have been thinking it would be nice to help out at CCHS? Well, now's your chance! Whether it's a few hours a week, one day a month, or something in between, this is your opportunity to try it out. We are very much in need of volunteers! You can learn more and sign up on our website: https://www.cchs-petshelter.org/volunteer or email April at cchsoutreach1@gmail.com. Come join our CCHS volunteer family!
