AND GOD SAYS . . .

I remember a speaker I once heard who told about an experience he had on a talk show. He was put on the spot with a critical question he did not anticipate. Then he told us, "You know, I thought of the perfect answer... three days later." The audience's response indicated that they totally identified with him. I know I did.

I was talking with a person the other day who was concerned over a lesson I taught in our adult Sunday School class. They said something like, "Pastor, why did you have to talk about that subject when my daughter was in the class? She came to me afterward and said, 'Pastor said that I am going to hell! I'm never going back.'" How do I reply?

First, I need to clarify that I didn't say she was going to hell. That was her own conclusion. I was answering questions that she asked by reading Scripture that indicated her actions were sin and she concluded that, as a result, because she did not want to accept God's word, that she was going to hell.

Secondly, I must admit that my response was much less than adequate. I realize now, I was defensive. Three days later I thought of the right response. I should have said "Praise the Lord! The message struck home."

You see, "Jesus came to save sinners." (1 Timothy 1;15). This girl's response indicates that she had recognized that she was a sinner and therefore in need of a savior. This is really the first step to being saved and receiving eternal life. So rather than being defensive I really should have been excited.

To speak of sin and the need for a Savior may be offensive. But once we recognize we are sinners then we have great hope. Then we can confess our sin and be forgiven and made clean. And once we do that God says that "There is no condemnation to those who are in Christ Jesus" (Romans 8:1) and we are covered with the righteousness of Christ Jesus. No longer are we called sinners, but now the child of God adopted into His family.

Clark County Humane Society's Pet of the Week

"SARABI"
Sarabi is the CCHS Pet of the Week!

Sarabi came to CCHS with her sisters Nala and Sarafina, from a local farm mid-July. We don't know much about her actual background, but we can tell you for sure that she is cute, sweet, and very fluffy! Sarabi is a Chow Chow, a little over 4 months old (estimated DOB 3/31/25). She weighs 36.9#. She is so very pretty with her typical reddish tan Chow coloring, including her black tongue! Sarabi is a friendly girl, always happy to see visitors approaching. She will be a great addition to her new family, where she hopes to share great times in the future. With any dog, training and socialization are incredibly important. Apply for Sarabi today! You can submit your adoption application right on our website: www.cchs-petshelter.org/applying-to-adopt. We have lots and lots of wonderful pets available for adoption now, especially kittens and puppies, so please check them all out online and then stop in to visit!

Do you have a love for cats and dogs and have been thinking it would be nice to help out at CCHS? Well, now's your chance! Whether it's a few hours a week, one day a month, or something in between, this is your opportunity to try it out. We are very much in need of volunteers! You can learn more and sign up on our website: https://www.cchs-petshelter.org/volunteer or email April at cchsoutreach1@gmail.com. Come join our CCHS volunteer family!

BARN OWL

OUR AFGHAN ALLIES

In August 2021, I was one of the thousands of Americans who came to make sense of the chaos of the Afghan refugee crisis, their needs, cultures and languages. This large city of refugees, more than 12,000, arrived in the pastures and cranberry bogs of west central Wisconsin. They had escaped from the Taliban, who overthrew the U.S.-supported government in Afghanistan.

We brought food, organization, housing and health care. The people we met were stunned, terrified and lost. While most were very happy that they could start a new life, they also grieved for their families. They called on bad phone connections to hear their voices. From August to February 2022 life continued. Babies were born. Weddings were held. Some escaped from abusive marriages. Women were admitted to colleges and families moved to jobs and homes across the country.

One man told me how the Taliban still came to his mother's house to arrest him, not believing when she said he had left the country. I met smiling, ecstatic young women who were leaving for places like California or Oklahoma to begin their studies. I attended the elderly who ached in their joints and in their hearts for their homes and family. Some had never seen a doctor before. They felt blessed to be given Tylenol. I met pregnant women trying to understand American medical care - and their husbands who did not want men to examine or treat their wives.

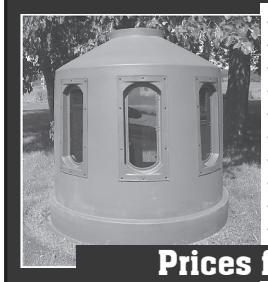

These refugees did not know how to dress for the freezing Wisconsin winter. They did not understand American food – or like it. But they all eventually found a home, sometimes a job, and moved forward. Finally, the last bus pulled away from Fort McCoy.

The Afghans had been guaranteed asylum from the truly evil Taliban. They were drivers, cooks, interpreters and even soldiers themselves. They helped and protected American soldiers in Afghanistan. They had been promised safety in America and wanted to put down roots in America just like immigrants before them.
Now, with no cause - except sheer malice - Trump says they will be sent back. Their Temporary Protected Status has ended. H.S. Secretary Kristi Noem says that Afghanistan is safe enough now. But, from refugee accounts, if they return to Afghanistan, they will be sent to prisons, forced to wear burkas, beaten, denied education or possibly killed as collaborators and traitors.

Will other people trust or help an American soldier if this is what they get in return?

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle.
