BARN OWL

1619

The year a terrible disease came to the shores of the thirteen British colonies.

The disease brought death, pain and suffering to millions of people for centuries. It left people poor and defeated. It broke up families. It took away people's hard work and left them with nothing. Many died working in the fields, others died hanging from trees. This terrible illness entered the very cells of all Americans in some way.

It affected all races and peoples. But the Europeans did not lose their lives. They lost their souls.

The disease was SLAVERY.

Slavery was kept alive by those who taught and encouraged hatred and fear between races. European Americans were taught to believe slaves were less than human, ignorant, savage and only good for hard work or sex. In this way, the new wealthy benefitted from the one great thing that slaves brought with them – CHEAP LABOR. Most slaves were taken from Africa, not because Africans were inferior, but because they could not defend themselves against European weapons and, as slaves, easier to spot and recapture. They were taken so they would work and their children would work and could never ask for a wage, a day off or better conditions. Immense fortunes were built on the backs of those who planted and harvested cotton, tobacco, rice and sugar cane – the cash crops of the South.

Southern culture was built around the use of slaves. Some whites found work beating and controlling slaves. Poor whites resented slaves. They could lose their job to a slave. Whites were reminded for generations that slaves were not human. Slavery was built to benefit the rich and their cash crops, not the working white people of the south.

It took a long and bitter war to even begin to rid us of slavery. But the Southern elite who lost the war still intended to control ex-slaves and their descendants. Those who tried to bring equality to the millions who were freed were slowed at every turn. That fight continues today. The anger, suspicion and violence that we see in our nation today came from the need for Cheap Labor. We still live in a culture that says it is okay to mistreat your fellow humans and behave opposite of the teachings of your own faith.

If you would like to read a good book about how racist ideas were started and spread in America, read Ibram X. Kendi's Stamped from the Beginning, a difficult book to read. But it helps explain how we came to the place we are.

The Black River Falls Area Foundation (Foundation) is a non-profit organization dedicated to assisting community organizations and students in Jackson County. Its success depends on people donating their time, talents, and money.

AND GOD SAYS . . .

There is a story in the Bible about a man named Bartimaeus, who was blind and sat alongside the road to Jericho, begging for money to live on (Mark 10:46-52, Luke 18:35-43). The Bible has few details, but other historical accounts of the times help us to fill in the picture. Like so many places today, beggars were not very much appreciated. They were tolerated, but largely ignored. A few people tossed them some coins to discharge their responsibilities and salve their consciences. Bartimaeus probably received just enough to eke out an existence. They didn't care that the blind man sat alongside the road begging as long as he didn't interfere with their activities or cause them any personal hardship.

So Bartimaeus was probably largely ignored by the crowds of people as he sat, day after day, begging for whatever coins might be tossed his way. He was in total darkness, unable to see at all.

Then one day Jesus came to Jericho, and passed by this man. When he heard the crowds who accompanied Jesus, he asked what was happening. When he found out Jesus was there, he began to cry out, "Jesus ... have mercy on me."

Now, a rather insightful brief picture is painted here. Instead of the crowds helping this man to get Jesus' attention so that he might find help, they rebuked him and told him to "be quiet." But Bartimaeus cried out all the more, until Jesus heard him.

> Jesus stopped and asked him, "What do you want me to do for you?"
>
> Bartimaeus answered, "Lord, I want to see."
>
> Jesus then said to him, "Receive your sight; your faith has healed you."

One thing to keep in mind as we apply this story for today, is that the miracle illustrates

Jesus purpose for coming into this world is to help the spiritually blind to see Him (Jesus) as the "light of the world." But it also shows those who were following Jesus can actually be the greatest hindrance to Jesus accomplishing His mission. I wonder if it may be the same today. What do you think?

Heat strokes can be deadly. In just minutes, your vehicle can turn into a furnace. Don't leave your dog in your car.

Clark County Humane Society's Pet of the Week

"PETEY"

Petey is the CCHS Pet of the Week!

Petey came to CCHS as an owner surrender earlier this August after his owner's health started to decline. This charming, 5 year old mixed breed is currently weighing in at a whopping 81.9#. Petey is a sweet, smiling guy who is ready to wiggle his whole bottom into your heart! He is a versatile dog! Whether you're curling up on the couch to watch a show, or heading out on an easy hike, Petey is ready to be at your side for all of life's little adventures! He is super handsome with his short-haired white and brown coat. While we aren't entirely certain what his exact breed makeup is, we can tell you he is 100% the cuddliest bug! With any rescue, training and socialization are incredibly important to the success of the dog. Apply for Petey today! You can submit your adoption application right on our website: www.cchs-petshelter.org/applying-to-adopt. We have lots and lots of wonderful pets available for adoption now, especially kittens and puppies, so please check them all out online and then stop in to visit!

Do you have a love for cats and dogs and have been thinking it would be nice to help out at CCHS? Well, now's your chance! Whether it's a few hours a week, one day a month, or something in between, this is your opportunity to try it out. We are very much in need of volunteers! You can learn more and sign up on our website: https://www.cchs-petshelter.org/volunteer or email April at cchsoutreach1@gmail.com. Come join our CCHS volunteer family!
