BARN OWL

THE DEBT SPIRAL

When someone needs more money than they have, they usually have to borrow it. There are a lot of ways to get loans. The hard part is paying the loans back.

When someone lends you money, they expect you to pay that money back plus a fee called interest. Interest is the cost of borrowing money. But if you borrow too much, the amount of interest you have to pay makes it harder to pay off the loan. The debt becomes a larger and larger part of what you have to pay each month.

For example, if you have too large a credit card debt, you have two options. You can find a way to make more money or you can cut expenses somewhere. You may have to get an extra job or buy less and use the extra money to pay down the debt.

The U.S. debt just reached $40 TRILLION.
The debt continues to go up by about $6 million every minute. Every U. S. taxpayer owes about $360,000. The national debt is the amount of money the U.S has borrowed, plus interest. Paying the debt and interest is called "servicing the debt". It is now the second largest expense our government has. The only larger cost is Social Security. We are paying huge amounts for the interest on money we have already spent.

We get the money to pay the debt by selling Treasury bonds to domestic and foreign corporations, banks and wealthy individuals. We promise to pay it back plus pay interest.
Each new treasury bond is like a new credit card. If lenders think our economy is getting weaker, they will demand higher interest rates because lending seems riskier.

The United States has almost always had a debt. During World War II, we borrowed a lot of money to finance the military. After the war, the country worked to bring down the debt. One way was to collect more taxes from the richest Americans and corporations. Later, during the Republican administrations of Ronald Reagan, George W. Bush and Donald Trump, taxes were cut for corporations and for wealthy Americans. This cut our country's income. At the same time, government spending increased. We had to borrow more money.

Just like a person with way too many credit cards, we end up in a spiral, paying forever for what we already spent and leaving a debt for those we love and leave behind.

BARN OWL
A GOOD CAPITALISM

Many people support capitalism. They believe capitalism is the best way to build a good life for those involved. In pure Capitalism, people own businesses and industries and the government should have little control over them. Businesses make their profit by selling goods and services. Competition between businesses leads to the best ideas, the best products and better methods of production. When something doesn't work, the business will fail. Success is measured by how much profit is made for the business owners.

Unfortunately, Capitalism has its problems.

- Wealth and power become concentrated. As a smaller number of people begin to own more, the gap widens between the income of those who own businesses and those who work for them.
- Capitalism does not protect the wellbeing of citizens. It is believed that focusing just on making profits will make a better life for everyone. This is called the "invisible hand" that leads to better conditions for all.
- Capitalism is an unstable system. It goes through "boom and bust" cycles. leading to times of abundance and prosperity and times of terrible poverty.
- While making profits, there are unintentional consequences that affect everybody. A business may produce toxic waste, pollution and dangerous working conditions. These problems are ignored unless they cause a loss of profit.
- Monopolies develop. Monopolies control most or all of an industry. With good profits and less competition, a company may have less reason to improve its products and no need to lower prices.

Capitalism has made parts of the world safer, more prosperous and more comfortable. It has also left most of the world poor and struggling to meet basic needs. The poor become poorer and the rich become richer. Capitalism's "invisible hand" is not working.

We have heard a lot about "Social Democrats" recently. They are not socialists or communists. They don't want the government to take over and control factories and businesses. Instead, they want capitalism to work in a way that benefits everyone.

Social Democrats believe the benefits of capitalism should be shared with all the people who work to keep the economy going. Social programs need to be guaranteed. These programs may include health care, retirement insurance, housing and access to food. They believe that people all deserve, when possible, shorter work weeks, more time with their families, a good education and a fair chance to get ahead. They believe in a Capitalism that works for everyone.

...a sincere THANK YOU

To everyone from near and far who came out and supported the Rita Tranberg Memorial in such a big way!

Every year, this event continues to grow, and it only happens because of all of you. The support and generosity from Blair and all of our surrounding communities is truly incredible.

People come together from all over to donate, volunteer, attend, give, and simply show their support — and that is what makes this event so special.

We are beyond grateful for each and every one of you. This is what amazing communities coming together looks like.

With sincere appreciation,
The Tranberg Family

Clark County Humane Society's Pet of the Week

"JESS"

Jess is the CCHS Pet of the Week!

Jess is 11 weeks old and is super cute with her short-haired brown and white coat. This adorable Rat Terrier/ Border Collie mix is smart, sweet, and ready to meet the people who will become her forever family. With two breeds known for their intelligence and personality in her mix, Jess has plenty of potential to grow into a wonderful companion. She's at the perfect stage of life to start learning, exploring, and discovering all the fun things the world has to offer. Jess is looking for a family who wants to be part of that process and will give her the training, patience, and love she needs to become the best dog she can be. Come meet our girl Jess and see if she's the missing piece your family has been looking for! You can submit your adoption application for Jess on our website: www.cchs-petshelter.org/applying-to-adopt.

Please join us! The 4th Annual Community, Crafts and Causes event is coming up on Saturday, October 3rd, from 9:00 AM - 3:00 PM at the Clark County Fairgrounds. There will be lots of crafters and local artisans to check out, and donations of non-perishable food items will be collected for local food pantries. Food concessions will be available from American Legion Post 73 - Neillsville. Best of all, there will be a huge raffle with amazing prizes, with all ticket sales benefitting the animals at CCHS! We're really looking forward to it, and hope you are too!

Your voice matters!

AND GOD SAYS...

For those God foreknew he also predestined to be conformed to the image of his Son [Jesus Christ] .... (Romans 8:29)

Dr. Jim Denison writes, "Not that our purpose should be to be happy or even to be moral. Our purpose in knowing and serving God should be to 'be conformed to the image of his Son' (Romans 8:29), to be shaped into the likeness of our Lord so that 'Christ is formed in you' (Galatians 4:19) and people see Jesus in us (cf. Acts 4:13)."

While this is God's expressed purpose for choosing to save us, many believers have ever so subtly slipped from God's highest purpose to their own purpose, and our goal becomes our happiness. In fact, even well known pastor, John Piper, has coined the expression "Christian Hedonism" to describe our purpose as believers in Christ. To be a hedonist is to seek pleasure as the highest good. But that is not Christianity. Yet, for all practical purposes, that seems to be how many of us actually live our lives.

Attorney and writer Bob Goff expressed a similar observation this way. He wrote: "Our problem with following Jesus is that we're trying to be a better version of us, rather than a more accurate reflection of him." It's about our well-being, our happiness, things going the way we want them to and become the person we want to be. Instead, we ought to be focused on becoming the person God wants us to be by accepting the problems that impact us in our life believing that God is using them for good and, as a result, will bring glory to his name through them (Romans 8:28). That is called faith, faith in him, in his trustworthiness. That is living by faith, not by sight.

As a result of our focus on ourselves, we tend to get discouraged and depressed, and even become critical of God's word, or even of God himself, Then, because things are not going well in our their lives we tend to get angry and bitter, which causes all kinds of disorder. It even seems like God is no longer hearing us when we pray (James 3:13-4:3).

So what's the answer? This is probably an oversimplification, but it begins by focusing on God's plan for our life— his plan for us to become a more accurate reflection of Christ rather than trying to be a better version of us. When we do that it changes everything.

TWO WAYS TO SELL. ONE GOAL.
FINDING THE RIGHT FIT FOR YOU & YOUR PROPERTY

As summer gives way to fall, many of our customers are making changes of their own. Over the past few months, our team has helped 22 property owners successfully sell, with 5 choosing the auction route and 17 opting for a traditional listing. Both can be great options, but the right fit depends on your property, timeline, and goals.

A traditional listing may be ideal if you're comfortable letting the market develop, want flexibility to adjust your price or strategy, or would like time to make updates and get the property ready for the market.

An auction offers a defined timeline, urgency, and competition, making it a great option for sellers who want a clear path to closing. It can be especially helpful for those retiring or downsizing, settling an estate, living out of state, or simply not wanting to spend months managing a property. Auctions can also allow you to sell as-is, without making repairs or updates.

There's no one-size-fits-all approach to real estate. Whether you're selling a family farm, home, cabin, investment property, or commercial property, our team will take the time to understand your goals and help you determine which path makes the most sense for you. Give Us A Call!
